FIFTEEN CENTS

Village, Twp. tickets see few challengers

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

The Antioch Village Progressive Action Party and the Antioch Township Citizen's Independent Party are both seeing the close of a relatively quiet campaign.

The village ticket saw three candidates (including one write in) opposing Village Mayor Raymond Toft, and Claudette Scavarce trying for a Trustee's seat.

Toft has been active in village politics since 1961, when he served a term as trustee. In 1965 he was elected Mayor, serving two consecutive terms. Eight years later, he was elected back to office.

Living in Antioch all of his life, Toft enjoys seeing the progress the village has made, especially in the last four years.

"I've enjoyed the last four years," said Toft.

"We've been working real hard to get new industries. We've gotten four new industries and others have been expanded," he added.

"I'd like to see the projects we've started get finished," he said.

Owning a resort in Channel Lake and owning and operating Ray's Shell Station (now Union 76) are a few of his past achievements.

Toft is a member of the VFW, Lions, Rotary and Exchange clubs and has been a volunteer fireman for thirty years.

Independent mayoral candidate Mable Lou Weber has served as trustee in 1979, filling the vacancy created by her husband's death and was elected again in 1983.

Weber is a member of the Antioch Women's Club and member of and organist for the United Methodist Church.

Another life-long resident of Antioch, she and Toft went to high school together and generally see eye-to-eye on anything pertaining to the village.

"It's like old home week this election," said Weber.

Although the redevelopment of the downtown area is foremost on the candidates minds, exactly what will happen in the next four years can't be foreseen.

Obstacles foreseen are exactly where the finances will come from and more importantly, cooperation in the buying of private property needed for the expansion.

"We have to seek cooperation from everyone. This has to be a joint effort," she said.

In other areas, Weber would "like to see the extension of Depot Street" and to see the village "take care of what problems we've got now. We have a sewage problem, we're going to have to revamp our treatment plant," she said.

Mayoral candidate Henry Gillman is a twelve year Antioch resident.

After graduation from John Marshall High School; in Chicago, Gillman joined the Navy. He was active with them for twelve years.

He feels more should be done to fill the eleven area stores presently vacant.

"We're losing revenue on them," said Gillman.

He would also like to see the renting of a garage east of the Soo Line tracks to house emergency vehicles.

Because of the trains, "we lose time getting help out there," he said.

Gillman would also like to see the Oakwood Knolls property taxes cut.

He was on the ballot four years ago.

Phil Burke is the election's only write-in candidate.

Burke has formed the American Concerned Citizen's Party.

"I'm a reform candidate," said Burke.

"I'm very concerned about the direction our country is taking," he said.

Skavarce halts campaigning

Claudette Skavarce who was to run against the village ticket for a trustee spot has reportedly dropped out of the campaign as of March 25. Skavarce was out of town and unavailable for comment.

Being against the two-party system, Burke said, "what we really need is a strong independent party, that's why I formed the AC-CP."

Burke, very much an environmentalist, feels, "we're messing it (the environment) up faster than we can rectify it."

He is self-employed at Electronic Consultants International.

Village clerk Marylin Sterbenz looks ahead to her fifth term.

Living in Antioch for 34 years, she attended St. Mary's High School in Chicago.

Sterbenz is the founder and past president of the Lake County Municipal Clerks Assn.

Working as a correspondent for the Waukegan News Sun is another past achievement.

The three trustees on the ticket, Ronald Cunningham, Vern Barnstable and Rodney White, are opposed by Claudette Scavarce.

Cunningham, active with the Antioch Fire Dept. for 20 years, has lived in Antioch all of his life.

He is owner of Cunningham Cartage Trucking Co. Inc. Before taking ownership, he was partners with his father, who owned it for fifty years.

Cunningham is running for his fourth term.

Vern Barnstable has been active with the Historical Society, the Moose Lodge and the Republican Club.

Barnstable is running for his fifth term.

Moving to Antioch in 1961, White is owner of Radkes Barbershop, in Antioch.

He was active with the rescue squad for 17 years and is a past member of the chamber of commerce and the Lion's Club.

He is running for his second term as trustee.

Scavarce defeated Weber for a board seat in 1981.

Facing his third term (the second to be unopposed), Township Supervisor Jim Fields looks to continue with many of the same projects.

Hopes are by the summer to be working on the Morley Subdivision, Chain-O-Lakes and California Ice and Coal drainage improvements.

So far, the township has spent $125,000 on such improvements.

"In the last four years we received about $300,000 in grant money for drainage improvements," said Fields.

An expansion to the township hall is also being planned.

"I hope to continue the senior citizens half cab fair," he said.

"We have expanded our services for dial-a-ride," which is accessible to all township residents, he added.

The township has also taken over (from Catholic Charities) the distribution of food to the elderly and low-income families. The past year, the township has distributed to over 225 families, butter, cheese, honey and other foods.

Fields served on the rescue squad for twelve years.

Clerk Richard Harland, Assessor B.G. Bud Holts, Highway Commissioner David Heath and Trustees Rudy Eckert, Lillian Golonka, Homer LaPlant and Richard Kufiak are with

Resident reaches well deserved goals

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

Achieving ones goal is a rewarding, often difficult task. For some it seems more difficult and once reached...far more rewarding.

Stricken with post-polio at birth, Erdie Cole, Antioch, has proven himself as an athlete, becoming the all-time leading scorer for the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater Wheelchair Basketball Team.

"I was so happy when I found out about this," said Cole.

This past season, he averaged 25.5 points per game with 10.4 assists, for the Warhawks, both tops in the state.

Cole was named all-conference, most valuable player in the conference, named to the all-tournament team and voted most valuable player in the tournament.

"He tries to do more than most kids do. He's very active," said stepmother Margaret Cole.

"We saw two games back-to-back and really enjoyed it," she said.

The conference includes teams from Madison, Milwaukee, LaCrosse, Eau Claire and Whitewater, with Whitewater being the only college team.

"These other guys have been playing this for years," said Cole.

Only having played for three years and receiving this many awards, Cole said, "I was really suprised."

Majoring in political science with a minor in business law, Cole also finds time to play wheel-chair soccer.

"Our team just won the championship I'm happy to say."

Known for it's help to disabled students, Whitewater is "set up so everyone can get around easier," said Cole.

The disabled teams, are a big part of this help.

The Warhawks play by the same rules as NCAA teams, explained Cole. The only qualification is having a permanent disability in your lower extremities.

"You don't have to be confined to a wheelchair," said Cole.

In fact, "half of the players (including Cole) in the Wisconsin State Conference are able to walk on their own or with the help of crutches," said Warhawks coach Frank Burns.

Aside from wheelchair sports, Cole was been active in tennis and wrestling through high school and still plays tennis. "As long as I keep up with the rest of the players it's fine," he said.

An all-star wheelchair basketball game, scheduled for April in Chicago, will bring to town some of the best players in the country, including Cole.

From here he has a chance to play on an international team which would travel all over the country.

Although winning individual awards, the Whitewater team hasn't shared much of the success, which is Cole's dream before graduating next year.

"I'd like to see us win either a slate or national award," he said.

Chamber to host forum

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry will host a mayoral forum featuring incumbent Mayor Raymond Toft and challengers Mabel Lou Weber and Henry Gillman.

A cash bar and hors d' oeuvres will be available at 2 p.m.

Chamber members are invited to bring guests who are eligible voters for the mayoral candidates.

PM&L becomes glamorous

by GLORIA DAVIS

It is glitzy, glamorous and glittery and it features five talented young people who treat their audience to hours of good musical entertainment.

"Glitz, Glamor and Glitter," a season closing musical revue that just opened at Andres Dinner Theater, is probably the best production that Fantasia Productions and Producer Ron Ferraro have come up with yet.

The three dolls and two guys that make up the entire cast of the revue run a vicious gamut from Broadway to Las Vegas then to Hollywood in grand style.

The fact that this would be an impossible row to hoe for even most superstars makes this a very good but not great show.

The memory of the many very professional and excellent numbers is slightly tinged by the few mediocre ones that (in this reviewer's opinion) should have been cut from the show.

Despite the fact that the final curtain was about one-half-hour overdue when it finally fell, the audience showed much appreciation for the quintet's efforts.

Virginia Zymonas, Cathy Taylor and Kathi Knop, a talented musical trio, each has many outstanding numbers.

Applause, applause to Taylor's "What I Did For Love," "All That Jazz," and "I'm The Greatest Star."

Zymonas is a leggy standout in the "Cabaret," "Love For Sale," "Out Here On My Own" and "Memory" from "Cats."

Knop's delivery and sense of comedy stand her in good stead in the "Gimmick" number from "Gypsy," and also in "Don't Tell Mama," from "Cabaret."

Jeff Jones has a fine voice and great stage presence including a good comedy sense displayed well in the "Indian Love Call," "If you Could See Her Through My Eyes," and "Beauty School Dropout." And he really had the beat in the numbers from "Grease."

Bob Dapper has a pleasing voice, doing a good job vocally with "Even Now," and "Summer Nights," but he needs eye-contact work and doesn't quite have the same good sense of rhythmic movement that the others do.

This could be Director Robert Mott's fault for I'm sure he knows of many a famous singer that never publicly tried a dance step.

I did have the feeling that when this revue was written the five stars all sat down and wrote it by listing every song they had ever wanted to sing on stage.

Most of their choices are good ones so don't miss it.

Turn your home into an energy conservation machine. With a heat pump.

Instead of burning scarce fuels, the heat pump uses electricity to capture heat from a limitless energy source. The sun.

Even on cloudy, cold winter days, there's still solar heat in the air. The heat pump captures this heat and pumps it to where it can be used.

It's the most practical, efficient heating and cooling system you can install today. And it's dramatically changing the way we use energy.

Turns heat energy outside in and inside out.

The same principle that makes the heat pump work is already at work in your home inside your refrigerator. In fact, a heat pump is a lot like a refrigerator.

There's an indoor unit that consists of a coil and fan. There's an outdoor unit that consists of a coil, fan and compressor. Piping connects them. Inside the system, a refrigerant circulates, "carrying" the heat from outside in and inside out.

In winter, the refrigerant in the outdoor coil absorbs solar heat, is compressed and pumped inside. The heat comes in to keep you warm.

The energy-efficient heat pump has an outdoor unit that is about the same size as a conventional central air conditioning unit.

In summer, the process is reversed. Warm air inside the home is blown over the indoor coil. The refrigerant absorbs this heat, is pumped outside, then condensed. The heat goes out, leaving you cool. And the unit filters the air and dehumidifies, too.

Produces more energy than it uses.

Unlike systems that merely use up energy to make heat, the heat pump uses electricity to produce more energy than it uses. Over the entire winter season, a heat pump provides at least 1.75 units of heat energy for every equivalent unit of electricity used. It's this extra energy bonus that makes the heat pump a smart investment.

The initial cost is a little higher. But the operating cost is lower. So in the long run, the heat pump can help save.

How to get one.

You can often replace your present forced air system with a heat pump. Installing a heat pump in a new home is even easier.

If you'd like to know more, call your local Commonwealth Edison office and ask for our consumer information booklet on electric heat pumps. Our marketing engineers will be glad to talk to you about your plans.

State Bank home improvement fair a success

It has become a familiar scene: fourteen thousand square feet of State Bank of Antioch space suddenly transformed by twenty-five home improvement exhibitors and hundreds of enthusiastic visitors.

The State Bank's third annual Home Improvement Fair had something for everyone interested in improvements to their home, new construction and ways to finance the plans they came to discuss with local contractors.

Bank vice president and fair coordinator, Wally Jaskowski, cites the professional attitude of established local contractors and the serious interest of Fair visitors as the key to the evident success of the two-day event.

"We do the preliminary work and provide the expertise of our lending personnel for the Fair," said

Jaskowski, "but once the Fair is in progress on Friday, the momentum continues right through to 3 p.m. on Saturday when the door prize drawing takes place. The enthusiasm of everyone is very gratifying."

The three top door prize winners in the fair drawing were: $1000-first prize, Barbara C. Beese, Antioch; $500-second prize, Sam Tripoli, Lake Villa; $200-third prize, Guenter Breuer, Twin Lakes, Wis.

Top prizes will be paid out by the State Bank of Antioch on any home improvement project of each winner.

Winners of the random drawing for miscellaneous tools are: Type II Commercial Ladders: Russell Doolittle, Antioch and Loretta Hart, Trevor; Stanley utility knives: Henry Schneider, Round Lake and Kathleen Stewart, Lake Villa; hard tooth saw: John Cole, Antioch; electric hedge trimmer: Mark Buchholz, Ingleside; crosscut saw: Charles Bista, Lake Villa; 100-ft. measuring tape: Darlene Olenick, Antioch; hammer: P. Justad, Antioch; screwdriver: Teckla Ruzicka, Silver Lake, stud sensor: Judy Wells, Antioch; groove joint plier: Frances Childs, Lake Villa; 25-ft. power lock tape measure: Lawrence Carstensen, Antiotch; hard tooth saw: Kathy Morenz, Antioch, torpedo level: Mike Monroe, Antioch; 26-inch crosscut saw: Mike Langhof, Gurnee; B & D jigsaw: Russel Ball, Lindenhurst; surface plane: Matt Tierney, Fox Lake; 4-ft. Mayes level: Roger Le May, Jr., Bristol; B & D 1 1/2" HP circular saw: Mrs. Joe Kanka, Antioch; hacksaw: Wanda Owen, Spring Grove; B & D variable speed drill: Larry Weston; B & D bechtop work center and vise: Allen Moon, Antioch; Red Devil lawn spreader: D. Olenick, Antioch.

"Each year the community's response to the fair is extremely encouraging," said bank marketing director, Florence Babusek, "and we look forward to serving the needs of people who will be bringing in their cost estimates for projects they plan."

Bank management has already scheduled its first planning session for a 1986 Home Improvement Fair, with expansion heading the agenda.

Bears Beat Sequoits In Sectional Contest

by MIKE PRAMSHAFFER

The Antioch High School Girl's Varsity Basketball team completed its 1984-85 season with a heartbreaking 56-51 loss to the Lake Zurich Bears in the Waukegan East Sectional.

The Sequoits finished with a 22-4 overall record and tied with Libertyville for the North Suburban Conference Championship with a 16-2 record.

Against Lake Zurich, Antioch couldn't handle the Bears' Lisa Foss, who scored a game-high 36 points.

The Sequoits took an early

11-9 lead after one period of play but Lake Zurich came back in the second quarter to take a 24-20 lead at the half.

The Bears took a seven-point lead at 19-12 with 4:41 remaining in the first half but the Sequoits then switched defenses and closed the gap to four after two periods of play.

Antioch closed the gap to three points going into the fourth quarter by outscoring the Bears 18-17 in the third stanza.

The Sequoits led by three with four minutes remaining in the game but the Bears were able to tie the score on a basket by Foss and a free throw by Shelly Dahm with 3:16 remaining.

The Bears took the lead one minute later when Dahm took an inbounds pass in for a layup with 2:15 remaining. Baskets by Foss and Dahm then put the game away for the Bears as they came away five-point victors.

Antioch may have fallen five points short but they controlled the boards with a 38-25 rebounding advantage. Perhaps the key of the game was the fouling situation, in which the Sequoits committed 25 fouls to Lake Zurich's 14.

Lisa Rietschel led the Sequoits in scoring with 22 points, while Brenda Webb chipped in with 13. Foss was the only Lake Zurich player to reach double figures in the scoring column.

Police warn area residents of scams

by LEE ANN MACKULIN

Keeping aware of frauds could save people a lot of time and money this time of year. In one area woman's case, it could have saved her $2,800.

"Don't believe anyone that calls you and says they're a bank examiner," said Antioch Police Lt. Tom Fisher.

"Make a call to your bank or local police station to check it out," he added.

An area woman, recently widowed, received a call from a man claiming to be an Antioch bank official. He proceeded to explain to her that "something fishy" was going on with her checking account and she needed to come to the bank and cash a check, said Fisher.

After cashing a check for $2,800 (anything $3,000 and over is checked thoroughly by the bank) the man had her meet him (not at the bank) to get the check.

"We've had attempts out here before...it has happened here before," said Fisher.

School board announces resignation

The resignation of Jane Abramson, director of guidance, was accepted at the March 21 Antioch Community High School board meeting.

The board also approved early retirements of Stuart Good, Ken Smouse and Gene Lischewski.

Coordinator of Vocational Education, Adrian Mueller, presented the official state evaluation report of the Department of Adult, Vocational and Technical Education. He also presented the Antioch Community

High School plan in response to the suggestions of the evaluation committee that visited the school last fall.

Mike Reijonen and Andy Bemis, who will be representing ACHS in the National Distributive Education Contest in San Francisco May 1-6. Reijonen and Bemis, along with D.E. class sponsor Keith Ewert, explained about the state conference to the board.

Ken Wierschem, business manager, recommended that ACHS continue its membership in the Lake County Computer Technology Consortium, which the board approved.

Assistant Supt., Gary Allen gave an enrollment projection of 1,686 for next year, approximately 18 less than last year.

Finally, an announcement that four ACHS students will be going overseas as foreign exchange students through the Rotary Club Exchange program.

Society holds meeting

The Lakes Region Historical Society will be holding its final meeting March 28, before the antique show planned for April 19-20.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in helping with the show.

The meeting will be held in the Brook Community Room of the State Bank of Antioch at 7:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Village discusses annexation

A public hearing, March 18, brought input into the annexation at the northern end of the village of Antioch.

"We took down all of the problems and are going to consider them," said Village Clerk Marylin Sterbenz.

An extended public meeting will be held April 15 to talk again, she said.

At the March 18 village board meeting, the 'brush pick up' was announced. Every second Monday from April to October, the village will provide pick-up of tree branches or brush trimmings.

Finally, a proposal, by the finance committee, was approved to hire TIF expert Kai Nebel for no more than $15,000. Nebel will be instrumental in helping with the redevelopment of Antioch's downtown area.

Hospital updates directory

A directory of area health services, broken down in alphabetical order by categories, ranging from adoption agencies and ambulance services, to teen counseling and assistance for unwed mothers, has been produced for the third consecutive year by St. Therese Hospital.

The two-sided directory, compiled as a community service by the public relations and social work departments of the hospital, is available in quantity, free of charge. It has been totally updated and includes telephone listings and resource information on over 200 agencies and services available in both Lake County and, in some cases, the Chicago Metropolitan area, as well.

The directory may be picked up at the hospital's public relations department (if quantities are large) or requested on the phone by calling (312) 578-2609.

Township voters to elect agency board April 2

by MIKE PRAMSHAFER

Candidates for chairman and directors for the Chain Of Lakes-Fox River Waterway Management Agency are getting ready for the April 2 election, when voters in Lake and McHenry Counties will elect the seven-member board.

Lake County voters will cast their ballots at the regular polling places in Antioch, Lake Villa and Grant Townships.

The four chairman candidates, John Soffietti (Lake Villa), Joe Basak (Ingleside), Andrew MacMeekin (Crystal Lake) and Jerold Cordrey (McHenry) are all vying for a four-year term, while the other 26 candidates for directorships are vying for staggered two and four-year terms.

From Lake County, there are two candidates up for a two-year director term: Wayne Foss and Howard "Bud" Scott. Voters will elect only one of these men.

There are 12 Lake Countyans up for a four-year: Joseph Hamm, Walt Lang, Charles Kempf, Scott Shalek, Roy Gundelach, Henry Franke, Milton Boeger, Edward Caulfield, James Harris, Ronald Baker, Robert Schmidt, and Edward Haley. Voters will vote for two of these men.

In McHenry County, there are 10 candidates up for two-year term director seats:

Darrell Baker, George Thompson, Brian Koffler, James Stahl, Milton Parsons, Phyllis Dickstein, Dennis Baureis, Jane Wiess, Raymond "Mike" Bohne and Joe Washburn. Two of these men will be elected to the agency board.

The other two candidates from McHenry County, Bruce Bossow and Robert Sallaz, will be vying for the lone four-year term for director from McHenry County.

This water agency has a lot of potential and most of the candidates believe it is time to start taking some sort of action as soon as possible.

Many of these candidates have expressed what they think should be done immediately following the election, as well as long-term goals.

"This agency has the potential to bring so much more to the residents in Lake and McHenry Counties," State Senator Jack Schaffer said.

The board, which was made possible by the passing of a referendum back in November by more than a 2 to 1 margin, will have a $500,000 head start from money set aside in the state budget for dredging, according to Schaffer.

Funding for the agency will come from boat users' fees, with provisions that 75 percent of gross revenues would be spent on projects to improve the popular, but overcrowded waterway.

The suggested annual recreation and boating fees are $10 maximum for small boats and $50 for large boats.

The agency will seek funds from state and federal sources, but will not be allowed to impose taxes.

It is the general consensus of the various candidates that the initial short-term projects will include beefing up patrols on the crowded waterways and improving existing lighting and signs.

Each chairman candidate has his own idea of what major projects should be looked into.

MacMeekin proposes rigorous water quality testing, foster gate construction, establishment of a dredging program, enforcement of water safety laws, and public education and feedback.

Cordrey believes some of the immediate problems are safety measures and procurement of dump sites and permits. Other priorities, according to Cordrey, are flood control dredging, prevention of further erosion and the establishment of a communications network with state and local agencies and organizations.

Soffietti's goals for the agency are dedicated to planned economic business growth, together with preservation and improvement of the waterway for recreational purposes, not limited to boating, but to be enjoyed by all, regardless of the particular recreational pleasures.

Basak feels the two biggest problems to be addressed are sedimentation and flood control. He feels sedimentation is a more immediate problem than that of dredging.

He believes the three most important goals of the agency are to control the water levels, sedimentation, and to not throw good money after bad.

The powers and duties of the agency, which will be governing nine connected lakes and 6,550 acres of water, will be to: implement reasonable and necessary rules and programs to maintain and improve the recreational waterway; accept federal, state, county, and local government funds; construct, acquire, improve, and maintain public recreational facilities; acquire, purchase, lease, possess, and control dredging and other equipment; and enter into agreements with Illinois and Wisconsin and other local governments.

Fields on the Citizen's Independent Party Ticket.

Raymond Edwards will be vying for a trustee's seat and Mark Ring and Earl Quirk, both highway dept. employees, are running against Heath.

A life-long resident of Antioch, Heath began his term as commissioner four years ago, following the death of Blain Ring.

Prior to taking over as commissioner, he served as a trustee for four years.

"I've had four years out as a trustee and learned about the budget and the bidding process," said Heath.

"We have tried to continue good snow removal and to get as much paving work done as we can," he added.

Heath is head of the Antioch Volunteer Rescue Squad, 20-year member of the Lion's Club and is involved in the Exchange Club.

Having eight years experience with the Highway Dept., Ring feels he is ready to "preserve a family tradition" by following in his father (Blain Ring's) footsteps.

Ring is a former member of the Antioch Volunteer Fire Dept.

Quirk has had 20 years of experience with the highway dept.

"I'm acquainted with the whole operation," he said.

Quirk has been in Antioch since 1959.

Heller Debutes Directing Hart's 'Light Up The Sky'

"Light Up The Sky," Moss Hart's hilarious comedy which opens April 5 at the PM&L Theatre, represents Mark Heller's directorial debut for the Antioch based acting company.

Heller, who has come to be known to PM&L theatregoers as an outstanding actor, holds a B.F.A. in drama from the University of Arizona in acting and directing.

Local theatre patrons may remember his performances in "Mornings At Seven," "Sly Fox," "Oklahoma,"

"Bus Stop," and most recently, "On Golden Pond."

His first love, however, is directing and producing plays.

Says Heller, "Light Up The Sky" is simply a great show. The characters are lots of fun, the plot is super, and the action is non-stop. It's probably my favorite play. I'd advise people to make their reservations early for this show. They might want to come back to see it again."

Performance dates for "Light Up The Sky" are

April 5, 6, 12, 13, 19 and 20 at 8:30 p.m. There will be a special Sunday matinee on April 14, at 2:30 p.m. Tickets are $4.50 with discounts for students and senior citizens and can be purchased at the door prior to each performance. Reservations are recommended and may be made by calling (312) 395-3055.

Dinner-theatre packages may be obtained by calling The Village Pub (312) 395-3373 or Struggles Restaurant (312) 395-9400, both in Antioch.
